Terms and conditions for Online Revision Courses

Note, our T's & C's for private tuition are available on our website or directly when private tuition is booked.

Confidentiality and copyright:

1. LearnSmart Academy (Kathryn Hopwood) owns the Copyright on all the Intellectual Property shared.
2. Permission is not given to record or share this IP with any third party.
3. We are aware during the process of comments or practice paper reviews, information will be shared which may be of a confidential or sensitive nature such as current aptitude. With exception of safeguarding, information will not be disclosed unless express permission is given from a parent or guardian.
4. At no time will online videos be saved, shared or stored elsewhere by any party other than on LearnSmart Academy's teachable website unless permission is given by LearnSmart Academy.

Disclaimer:

1. The Tutor's role is as a learning specialist and an academic advisor.
2. Specific exam or test results are not guaranteed as they will depend on the effort, interests and strengths of the student. Our testimonials reflect the success of enrolled students.
3. Any actions taken by parents, guardians, students or any other third parties in response to advice from the Tutor will be the responsibility of the actor.

Course Use:

1. Each course can only be used by one student as there is only one personalised mark and certificate delivered when completed.
2. Courses are non transferable to other students.
3. Refunds are not available once the course has been started or after 14 days from purchase.
4. Each course expires at the end of the academic year (31st July).

Equal opportunities:

1. If the student is hard of hearing or has significant vision loss, our online course may not be the best way to access support.
2. If you, the purchaser, have any concerns about the student's learning impedance, such as a particular learning difficulty, do get in touch and we will advise on how best to use the materials in the course to access the best possible value and outcomes.
